RÉGION AGRICOLE DE SANTA CRUZ (Bolivie)

A la suite de construction de routes et de ponts liant la région de Santa Cruz à d'autres centres de population, de nombreux migrants arrivèrent. Les développements d'une agriculture extensive causèrent une déforestation massive de la région. En 2003, la quasi-totalité de la forêt a laissé la place à des milliers de parcelles cultivées.

AGRICULTURAL LANDSCAPE, SANTA CRUZ (Bolivia)

Following the construction of roads and bridges linking the region of Santa Cruz to other population centres, large numbers of migrants arrived. The subsequent agricultural development has caused massive deforestation in the region. By 2003, the forest area had almost entirely disappeared and had been replaced by thousands of cultivated plots.
